From the Head Teacher

Dear Parents/Carers,

Thank you to all those who supported our Children In Need fundraising efforts by wearing their pjamas and donating—every little we can do to support those in need, helps.

Pupils were very excited last week to take part in the TTRS England rocks challenge—it was a close race in school but Miss Johal's class maintained their lead and took the victory! The competition was also measured across the country and we are so proud to reveal that Miss Johal's class came... 9th out of 29,223 schools across the UK!!

Diwali workshop's also ran during 2 days this week and pupils had a great time learning all about the celebration.

Pupils also took part in Anti Bullying Week, during this time they explored what bullying means and the signs to look out for whether this be in person or online. There have been recent incidents involving inappropriate use of apps and social media at home. It is critical that parents monitor their children at all times when online so as to quickly identify when their child may be at risk. School will be running another workshop for parents in which we will show you the measures that can be taken at home. Please look out for the date and ensure that you attend.

As winter approaches and the cold weather starts, please ensure that children have an appropriate coat, gloves and hat for school. This week the NHS Flu immunisations team came out to speak to parents about the vaccinations available for children. If you wish to get your child vaccinated on Wednesday 29th November, please contact the front office.

We are so proud of how hard our pupils work—the number of pupils completing their TTRS, Reading Eggs and reading their books at home is increasing day by day. This extra learning really does help pupils to further develop in their overall learning—thank you to all of those parents who support with this, together we really will make a huge difference to our children's lives.

*Mrs. Sofina Islam OBE,
Headteacher*
